McChoir's Music Corner

This has got to be one of my favorite Sundays of the year—Good Shepherd Sunday. I think most people have a certain affinity for the image of Jesus the Good Shepherd, especially when we consider ourselves as a sheep in the flock he tends. It speaks to our desire to be loved and cherished, and we are loved and cherished in the most profound way in Jesus Christ. God is love itself, and in the person of Jesus, that love came down from heaven, so we call him “the king of love,” as we sang at communion today. “The King of Love My Shepherd Is” comes from the great English hymn writer Henry Baker, who took the words of Psalm 23: “the Lord is my shepherd, there is nothing I lack...” and crafted this delicate hymn text to express the warmth and depth of God’s love. This project was so impactful to Baker, that when he lay on his death bed, the final words he spoke before passing to eternal life were the words of the third verse: “Perverse and foolish, oft I strayed, But yet in love he sought me, And on his shoulder gently laid, And home, rejoicing, brought me.” If you know anything about sheep, you know they are not the smartest bunch, and they need a lot of guidance to live as they ought: They need a fence to keep them from aimless wandering, they need a sheep dog to run around and organize them, and they need a shepherd to protect them, and go after them when they inevitably stray from the flock. Our ‘Alleluias’ in the Easter season are due to his action as the shepherd who saves! It gives me great joy to sing his praises as my loving shepherd, in whom I put my complete trust: “I nothing lack if I am his, and he is mine forever.”
